

ADOLESCENT GENERAL EDUCATION, MST

Campus: NYC, Westchester

The MST in Adolescent Education program prepares candidates to teach subject-specific content to all adolescent students, including students with disabilities and those who are culturally and linguistically diverse.

Candidates will engage in a 30-credit program that provides content and practices appropriate to inclusive classrooms and provides candidates with clinically-enhanced experiences throughout the program. This program will lead to certification in adolescent education in a content area.

The program will include a total of 100 hours of fieldwork, in addition to one (1) semester student teaching.
