

COMMUNICATIONS LC-P (COMP)

COMP 200 Public Speaking (3 credits)

This learning community will explore the relationship between technology and communication. COM 200 is devoted to instruction in the mechanics of writing and presenting one's own material. It is a pragmatic, skills oriented course designed to provide a context for practicing the construction and presentation of well-reasoned public messages, while CIS 102W will link web-design to communication. Both classes will focus on some of the social and cultural implications of society's increasing reliance on technology for communicating.
