Pace University is a designated National Center of Academic Excellence (CAE) in Cyber Defense Education by the National Security Agency (NSA) and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). The CAE-CDE program is intended to reduce vulnerabilities in the national information infrastructure by promoting higher education in cybersecurity and by producing a growing number of professionals with information assurance expertise in various disciplines. When available, students attending CAE-CDE schools are eligible for scholarships and grants through the Department of Defense Information Assurance Scholarship Program (IASP) and the Federal Cyber Service Scholarship for Service Program (SFS).

Pace University is part of the Design Factory Global Network, a consortium of innovation hubs at universities around the world. Through this network, student teams work together on global issues in international, interdisciplinary teams utilizing the principles of design thinking.
